THE VICE PRESIDENT
WASHINGTON

July 25, 1966

Dear Dick:

I want again to thank you for your kindness in furnishing me office space for George Carroll and Suzanne Phillippe.

Your officers arrived Saturday morning at the Executive Office Building and, in less than two hours, had moved my people into their new quarters, where they found that everything they could possibly desire was already in place and ready for use. As a result of the devotion to duty of your employees, we were ready to do business as usual Monday morning.

I hope you will be kind enough to extend to everyone involved my very deep appreciation for their cooperation and responsiveness.

Best wishes.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Hubert H. Humphrey".

OFFICE OF THE VICE PRESIDENT
WASHINGTON

July 25, 1966

Dear Bob:

STATINTL

[redacted] and his crew arrived promptly Saturday morning. We were completely moved in before you could say "Jack Robinson."

The Vice President is deeply appreciative of the real help you have provided him. He is looking forward to an appropriate time when he can tell you so, personally.

Best wishes.

Sincerely,

George A. Carroll
